Farm Emergency's and Extrication- Josh Bakker

Each year, needless injuries and deaths occur to farmers, family members, farm employees, and rescue personnel. Emergency responders often lack knowledge of the nature of farm machinery, chemicals, and farm structures; in addition, some rescue techniques may actually increase the risk to the victim and rescue personnel. Training and education in the methods of farm/rural rescue are essential for proper response and safety to the rescuer and patient. The main goal of this class is to provide rural fire/rescue responders with a systematic approach to farm rescue procedures that address the safety of both patients and responders.

Equipment Requirements: Students must have full structural PPE.

EVOC- Monte Gummer

The purpose of this course is to enable members of various emergency service agencies to become more competent in the operation of emergency vehicles. Statistics show that emergency vehicle accidents are becoming a leading cause in firefighter fatalities and injuries. Student participation in this training session shows the realization of the need to become a better defensive driver when operating emergency vehicles.

$15 per student. Lunch will be provided.
